Dear Diary

Today has been the worst day ever because I've lost my grandad's jar!

I went to the hospital to see him but the mean nurse didn't let me in just because it wasn't visiting hours. Even though I should have gone to school, I went to the museum to find out some more information.

When I arrived I couldn't stop thinking about when I couldn't see my grandad so I felt sad and angry. Carefully, I crept upstairs to the Egyptian room because I didn't want anyone to see my school uniform. As I got further into the room I saw two people. They said their names were Oz and Tulip. Oz knew a lot about Egypt and he was quite shy and Tulip was very nice. I looked down and looked at what she was wearing and I saw that she went to the same school even though I have never seen her there.

Once we had a little chat a beautiful woman came in with a quick entrance. At first I thought it was a lady from school as well but as she got closer I found out it was Tulip's mum. When she got to Tulip she asked why she wasn't at school so they left and so I felt isolated and left alone even though I just met her. When they got out of the room I couldn't find my bag! I rampaged around the room but there was no sign of my bag. Just then in the corner of my eye I saw my bag wedged between two Egyptian statues. I pulled it with all my might and then it came out. I let out a big sigh of relief but not for long. It wasn't my bag. It was Tulip's so that meant she had the wrong bag! Panting and raging I tried to catch her but she and her mum had left already. I don't think I'll be able to go to sleep tonight because I'd probably be too busy thinking about my grandad's jar so I hope I'll get it back.
